

Rick Schloithe

Senior Associate

Rick Schloithe has over 35 years of expertise in project management, program coordination, and project feasibility, master planning studies, contracts procurement, contract administration, design team coordination.

Rick originally worked with Jim Allen & Associates Pty Ltd in 2004 as a Senior Project Manager and then Coffey Projects in 2006 after their acquisition of JAA.

In 2008 Rick embarked on an international career with Coffey International Development Ltd overseeing monthly general manager business risk identification and risk mitigation reports, as well as capturing ideas on how to improve management systems for an international development company across three regions (Asia Pacific, Europe & Africa; Americas & Middle East).

Responsible for identifying performance areas and systems requiring significant improvement to the Management system; business process; Health Safety Security Environment (HSSE) including maintaining the existing ISO 9001 Quality Accreditation for Australia & Europe.

Recognised by "Who's Who" in 2012 for "showing dedication, leadership and excellence in process management" and was selected as "professional of the year representing management consulting".

Rick has vast experience in alternative dispute resolution acting on behalf of clients to resolve disputes between clients and contractors or consultants and acting on behalf of contractors to resolve disputes with subcontractors. Rick has been an expert witness on a number of occasions.

An excellent communicator, Rick's strengths lie in spotting weaknesses in project organisation and bringing process and systems to projects.

Rick has provided strategic advice, project management, and superintendent services for a variety of clients over many years and has placed a large emphasis on risk identification and management.
